

Current Opportunities to Participate in NET+ Working Groups, Service Evaluations or Advisory Boards

The NET+ Program relies on participants from the community to engage with each other through various working groups, service evaluations and advisory boards to provide program guidance in many different capacities. We welcome higher ed and research community members that are willing to contribute their time and interest to support NET+ initiatives, new services and existing programs. We are currently seeking participants in the following; please contact netplus@internet2.edu if you are interested in participating in any of these or have an idea for a new service or working group.
