

General Requirements for Enterprise Infrastructure

On Aug 19, 2011, at 11:33 CT, RL 'Bob' Morgan wrote:

In the registries team we've been writing down a pile of requirements for the registries subsystem. Some of those are what I think of as "enterprise system requirements" that would apply to anything enterprisey, not just IAM. Such as

- event-enabled
- workflow-enabled
- management UIs
- self-service UIs
- service interfaces
- reporting capabilities
- long-term record retention
- ...

As we do gap analysis on existing OS products we'll want to measure against these features as well as more IAM-specific features (identity merge, eg).

The question is whether we want to make a list of these outside of the chunk teams, and if so would our team do that.

-----
I do think S&O should maintain this set of "enterprise infrastructure" requirements. I'll add this to the agenda for today's call and spawn a page on the wiki for it. --keith

-----
- RL "Bob"