

postgresql Build Documentation

Many components of the CommIT architecture depend on a database to manage information:

- CPR
- uApprove
- IdP persistentId

For the pilot, database instances are located on the same VM's as the CPR instances. It will be desirable to fork these out as their own dedicated component when the opportunity for further productionalization arises.